CALL FOR PAPERS

About The Conference

In an era characterized by rapid technological advancements, innovative management strategies, and groundbreaking scientific discoveries, the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration and knowledge exchange cannot be overstated. To facilitate this exchange, the International Conference on Advances in Applied Sciences, Management, and Technology, organized jointly by Atal Bihari Vajpayee University, Bilaspur, India, and Jai Narayan Vyas University, Jodhpur, India, in association with the American Institute of Management and Technology, USA, is poised to be a landmark event in the world of academia and research. It will serve as a global platform for knowledge dissemination, collaboration, and innovation, promoting the advancement of applied sciences, management, and technology for the betterment of society and the world at large.

The conference is set to take place in a hybrid mode, allowing participants from around the world to join either in person or virtually. This unique approach aims to ensure inclusivity and foster global collaboration, bringing together researchers, academicians, practitioners, and industry experts on a single platform. The topics of interest may include the emerging areas of science, management and technology.
